

The Racial Purity of the Jewish State & Surprise Attacks, as Recorded in the Scriptures

The nation of Israel originated from one man (Jacob), who begat twelve tribal leaders. These twelve were born to four different mothers. Yes, the Jewish nation, or the “apple of His eye” was started by four women—two wives and two maids. These four—Rachel, Leah, Bilhah and Zilpah were therefore the mothers of Israel. One was loved, one was not, and the other two were personal servants. Bilhah was Rachel’s maid, and Zilpah was Leah’s maid. Neither have recorded parents or lineage in scripture, yet they were joint-matriarchs of this mighty nation we revere with unflinching awe named “Israel”. A nation ruled by rightful heirs we call “Jews”. Let’s just do the math to make sure our eschatology and bible understating is correct.

Abraham’s first son Ishmael, was born to Hagar, an Egyptian slave woman. God declares that “the firstborn belongs to me, whether human or animal” (Exodus 13:2, 34:19). Ishmael was the first child ever circumcised by the chief Patriarch. Was he an animal, or just a typical half-brother? See Genesis 21. But we can write him off because he wasn’t Isaac. God is not a respecter of persons (Romans 2:11, Psalms 106:3, Acts 10:34), but Isaac was just better. Forget that God sent an angel to restore Hagar to her home—Sarah ruled the roost and kicked the slave woman and her son into the dessert a second time. Regarding the Jewish purity of Bilhah and Zilpah, these two handmaids who represent 33% of every Jew in history—hopefully they were purebred Jews. If not, we’d have a serious problem with associating “Jewishness” with race, ethnicity or nationality.

Consider the tribe of Joseph. He fathered Ephraim and Manasseh, who were, by the way born to an Egyptian mother. Joseph’s Egyptian name was “Zaphnath-paaneah”, given him by the Egyptian king. After Joseph completed his ministry in Egypt, he left behind these two half-Hebrews. Ephraim and Manasseh were therefore not 100% from the tribe of Israel (Jacob). But this is a “Jewish story”, right? It begins with a burning bush, where God declares His name to be “I am that I am” to Moses, the Egyptian raised basket case. With certainty, we know Moses was 100% Hebrew—he traces directly back to Levi. So, the man of God leads thirteen tribes into the dessert; from there his successor Joshua crusades into Canaan to form Ancient Israel, the promised land of the Jews. But let’s stop here to do the math. Simple bible exposition can reveal just how “Jewish” this new state would be.

Ephraim and Manasseh were half Egyptian by blood, fathered by Joseph, the coat-of-many-colors immigrant with dual-citizenship and two names. Even before leaving Egypt, “Israel” is now 8% Egyptian by race. Joseph had his “real” name, and his “Jewish” name. Can Jews fake their names? Esther faked her heritage in her marriage to Xerxes (Esther 2:10). Esther's real name was Hadassah. Israel himself (Jacob at the time), faked his identity entirely in order to steal the blessing away from his twin brother (Genesis 27). The prophet declared that Solomon's name would be Jedidiah (2 Samuel 12:25), but that never stuck somehow. Ruth was obviously a Pagan Moabite, but cleverly got grafted into the "Jewish state". At least she was honest, and willing to become a "good Jew". She declared, "Your people will be my people, and your God my God" (Ruth 1:16). The God of Moses, right? The God of Sinai? Did she magically became an ethnic Jew by speaking these words, or did she become a citizen of this mysterious "Jewish State". What came first, the chicken or the egg? The Jew or the state? Will Ruth's offspring, and future generations now be considered 50% Jewish? I guess we'd have to follow the lineage of Boaz. Boaz descends from the tribe of Judah, the son of Israel from which the word "Jew" can derive. Thus, Boaz was indeed a Jew. As the offspring of Judah, the "royal" tribe, we are confident that Boaz was pure. If anyone was a full blooded Jew, it was him. And since we are 100% focused on race and how it should define the state of Israel, I'm somewhat concerned that lots of these women were either undocumented (Bilhah & Zilpah), prostitutes (Rahab), pretend-prostitutes (Tamar), or full blown Midianites (Ruth). Should we be concerned about that?

Let's break this down. So Dan, Naphtali, Gad and Asher (four original tribes of Israel) were born to mystery maids. This results in six out of thirteen tribes being half-Jew (in case you were wondering, there were twelve original tribes—but when Joseph died in Egypt, he left his two aforementioned sons, making it thirteen). These two mystery maidens were likely not of Israel. Since Abraham bought his slaves from Egypt (Hagar), I'm sure his grandson Israel (Jacob/Israel) determined to buy his locally. Jacob was a patriot, after all. Patriots defend their land. They wrestle for their promises. Jacob was a fair businessman, because he didn't want to be like his father-in-law Laban, who screwed him over multiple times. The mathematical result is profound—these impurities prove that the inaugural bloodlines of Israel were 46% half-Jewish, and therefore 23% not Jewish. 23% of ancient Israel, from the minute they crossed over, were not "Jewish"; and if two-million passed through the red sea, then 460,000 of them were immigrants already ($2M \times 23\%$). If 23% were not Jewish 3,500 years ago, then how pure could the bloodlines be today? After two captivities (722BC and 587BC), Roman decimation (70AD), an inquisition (1478), how would racial purity maintain? After being scattered across the globe for two millennium, trying to find a pure Jew would be as difficult as discovering a patriot in the Western church. Even the second born to Jacob, Simeon, had a Canaanite son named Shaul (Exodus 6:15).

These plain facts are breakthrough in the understanding of "Israel" as a "Jewish State". All Christians should support Israel as a "Jewish State", correct? A Jewish state, by definition, must be founded, controlled, or populated by Jews, right? And, if these Jews are to keep their "Jewish State", then what of the scriptures that apply still today, regarding national security? The first Jewish bible, the "Torah" (Genesis through Deuteronomy), instructed them then, and instructs all nations now on how a people can be secure. Nations are secured on the conditional covenant of keeping God's laws. We are not talking about individual souls and salvation here. Deuteronomy 28 and Exodus 19:5. These are conditional if-then statements from God. Even the foreigners must obey the same laws (Exodus 12:49, 22:21 & 18:26). But after seeing the family tree, I'm not sure who is a "Jew" anymore, let alone a "Jewish State".

Israel is a nation that not only has the right to exist, but is prophesied to re-emerge and sustain (Amos 9). What is happening in modern Israel today is a pure evil. The groups Hamas, Muslim brotherhood, Hezbollah, etc., are guilty of the most heinous, yet predictable acts of atrocity; deeds very similar to how Joshua ("Jewish") impaled bodies of conquered kings (Joshua 10:26). Samson ("Jewish") cut the foreskins off his victims like America's savages scalped the white man, and the Philistines cut out Samson's eyes once he was captured. Regarding the evil of genocide and sudden terror, I'm sure there is a biblical narrative that we can draw wisdom from. For instance, the very first surprise attack recorded in the bible is found in Genesis chapter 34. By who? Some brown skinned Arabs versus a band of God fearing IDF soldiers? Rather, it was Jacob's sons who let loose on a neighboring tribe. Why? For committing the sin of bi-racial, bi-cultural marriage.

When Dinah, the only sister of Jacob was seduced by a neighboring chieftain, his entire city was massacred. Shechem sought approval and favor from Israel—he really loved Dinah and promised to give Israel whatever he wanted. Hamor, Shechem's father likewise pleaded with Israel to accept the union; he offered to unite their people through marriage and economic treaty. Harboring hatred over the incident, Israel's sons plotted a surprise attack. Go read this chapter—there could not be a more cruel or calculating couple of thugs than Simeon and Levi. Levi! The founder of the priesthood! The man of the cloth! The wearer of the ephod! Scripture records that Israel's sons "replied deceitfully" to the Shechemites offer, asking their enemies to become circumcised as a prerequisite offer of peace. They happily agreed. Imagine a people so desperate for peace, they were all willing to cut the skin off their genitals. Scripture says that Shechem, this young man was so enamored with his new bride, he "lost no time" in keeping his end of the deal. What followed was horrific. Genesis 34:25-31:

Three days later, while all of them were still in pain, two of Jacob's sons, Simeon and Levi, Dinah's brothers, took their swords and attacked the unsuspecting city, killing every male. 26 They put Hamor and his son Shechem to the sword and took Dinah from Shechem's house and left. 27 The sons of Jacob came upon the dead bodies and looted the city where their sister had been defiled. 28 They seized their flocks and herds and donkeys and everything else of theirs in the city and out in the fields. 29 They carried off all their wealth and all their women and children, taking as plunder everything in the houses. 30 Then Jacob said to Simeon and Levi, "You have brought trouble on me by making me obnoxious to the Canaanites and Perizzites, the people living in this land. We are few in number, and if they join forces against me and attack me, I and my household will be destroyed." 31 But they replied, "Should he have treated our sister like a prostitute?"

Picture the home of Hamor and Shechem—father and son butchered by the sword in their home. Why? For agreeing to Israel's peace offer. Father and son, hacked to pieces, wedding plans foiled and a people in mourning. Israel is now reprimanding his sons for the massacre, and how it affected their standing among the surrounding powers. The blood of circumcision mingled with the sword, and a city of dead bodies laid waste. Why? Because you dishonored my sister. From what I have heard about Muslim extremism, it almost sounds like these ancient Israelites were less Jew and more Islamic. What happened recently has revealed the ancient hatred in modern day. Go read the prophecy of Simeon and Levi in Genesis 49:5. This is a Jewish premeditated mass murder.

The Middle East is a savage region. Chances are, some of Gaza's residents have more Jewish blood than the Israeli forces. So why do we cling to the idea that a Jewish state is an ethnic or racial thing? In a best case scenario, the scriptures record that 85% were 100% Hebrew. How many millions upon millions have blended over the last 3,500 years since the Exodus? Worst case scenario? The mystery maidens were not of Israel, making four tribes inbreeds; these four, combined with Joseph's two, makes half of the original nation 46% blended, and 54% pure Jewish nation from day one. Best case scenario? "Jewishness" is considered to be passed down by the father, making the original tribes all pure by custom only. Nevertheless, the wars, captivities, persecution and blended marriages have undoubtedly broken the gene-pool. Basic bible texts debunks the popular presupposition that a "Jewish State" is a nation of racial purity. It also teaches that genocide and savagery are not unique to terrorists, but the broader experience of empires and tribes that inhabited this portion of the world.
